

Felice Sharp

Felice Sharp has spent a lifetime exploring the human form, first as a dancer and yoga instructor, then as a portrait painter, and later as an abstract manipulator of the figure. This journey has led her to push the boundaries of how the human body and movement are perceived, moving beyond the physical into more fluid, expressive realms.

Using a variety of materials such as pigment, ink, charcoal, paper, and plaster, Sharp's work seeks to transcend traditional limits, with each piece unfolding unpredictably. Through layering, she allows the paint to "dance," inspired by choreography and postures replaying in her mind, ultimately releasing the movement of the universe onto the canvas.
